ACTRAV Symposium
From Precarious Work to Decent Work: A Case for Policies and Regulations
ILO, Geneva, 4-7 October 2011

Dear Colleagues,

The Bureau for Workers' Activities of the International Labour Office is organizing an International Workers' Symposium on Precarious Work, which will take place at the ILO office in Geneva from 4 to 7 October 2011.

ACTRAV is extending an open invitation to trade union representatives to participate in this event.

The aim will be to:

- Examine economic and legal trends and developments in precarious work
- Discuss trade union strategies and responses
- Identify economic and social policies to combat precarious employment
- Identify innovative approaches to close regulatory gaps (through International Labour Standards)

A timetable is attached and further information can be found on the continuously updated symposium website (http://www.ilo.org/actrav/what/events/lang-en/WCMS_153972/index.htm).

A registration form is also attached, which should be returned to ACTRAV before 15 July.

Yours sincerely,
